End of Gas War In Near Future, Oil Men Predict

Early advance in the price of crude oil and subsequent termination of the present gasoline price control, following the adjournment of the Legislature at Sacramento late last week, were predicted by officials of the Independent Petroleum Association of California this week.

Crude May Increase

"Overproduction throughout California has been misrepresented by some of the major corporations who are in part responsible for the importation of duty-free foreign oil, and are also desirous of disposing of large stocks of stored oil which they have on hand.

Price ultimately is governed by supply and demand, and with the market for petroleum products throughout Southern California increased approximately 14 per cent during the first quarter of 1931 over the corresponding period for 1930; and with production being given that the law of supply and demand is gradually establishing a natural balance, which will have a greatly strengthening influence up on the industry.

Further substantiation of a marked increase in the price of crude oil and gasoline, according to Smith, is seen in the fact that crude oil stocks on hand in the United States have decreased more than 39,000,000 barrels within the past 12-month period. Gasoline stocks during the same period have been decreased 252,588,000 gallons, whereas the price of 20 gravity crude is $35 today, as contrasted with $15.50 a year ago.

Harvel Gets First G-E Junior Radios

With the introduction of the new G-E Junior and Junior Console, by the General Electric Company, radio fans need no longer sacrifice performance for size. Harvel reported today in his enthusiastic announcement of the arrival of these two models. They are full range radios. They may be small, but it must be good," was the challenge Harvel and other General Electric radio dealers throughout the country, hurled at General Electric engineers. Their answer was these two models.

Safety of Railroad Travel Is Revealed By Notable Record

Substantiating the claim that it is "less hazardous to travel on a railroad than to stay at home," the Southern Pacific Company today announced completion of an 11-year period without loss of life to a passenger in a steam train accident.

Safety of Railroad Travel Is Revealed By Notable Record

The notable safety record was made public by J. H. Dyer, vice president in charge of operations for the company, who pointed out that the railroad has 9000 miles of main and branch lines in six western states.

In the last 11 years, Dyer declared, Southern Pacific carried 436,926,569 passengers, or nearly four times the population of the United States; an accumulated distance of 17,293,308,123 miles, or the equivalent of 694,155 trips around the earth.
